

Before water gets to your house, a utility cleans it and makes it safe to drink.

Then the water travels through pipes to get to your faucet.

